

Railroad Services Group

The Power Behind Freight Economics is Rail

September 16, 2009

Mr. Frederick C. Harbour
Chief Executive Officer
Compliance Safety Advocates, Inc.
616 Enterprise Drive, Suite 202
Oak Brook, IL 60523

Dear Mr. Harbour,

It is with pleasure that I write this letter of thanks to you and Compliance Safety Advocates for the outstanding safety training and safety advisement services that were provided to our railroad operations and construction companies in Ames, IA earlier this year.

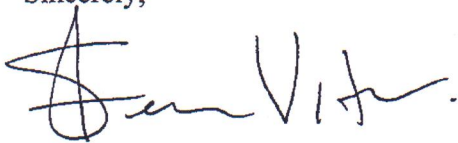

As you know, safety is our primary concern for all of our business units and their respective operations. The safety training and advisement services you provided to our employees was exceptional in content and end results. We were immediately able to put this safety training and advisement to work in our railroad, railcar switching and railroad construction operations. Doing so allowed us to generate immediate new business for the railcar switching business, as well as, allowed us to immediately implement further safe practices and procedures for our railroad and railroad construction business units.

We absolutely view your services as invaluable in that they help us to save lives, reduce accidents, retain our existing customers, effectively compete for new business, reduce our operating expenses, and overall, make us a better company across the board.

Please make sure to add us to the list of your clients that will vouch for Compliance Safety Advocates and the importance of having an effective and up to date safety program in place at all times.

On behalf of Railroad Services Group, thank you, and we look forward to a long service relationship with you and Compliance Safety Advocates.

Sincerely,

Steven Vitas
Vice President

SV/coi

Cc: David Malay, President – Railroad Services Group
Terry Thull, General Superintendent – Central Railgroup Construction Services
Steve Staley, General Manager – Central Illinois Railroad Company and Central Railink Services